A letter from Brian M. Riley, President and CEO of PriVest Bank.

For over two centuries, business owners, professionals, and affluent individuals have trusted private banks to assist them with their financial needs. We at PriVest continue this tradition by delivering individually tailored financial solutions, and much more. Whether your needs include financing, saving, or long-term investing, our expertise can make a dramatic difference. What makes us truly unique is our level of dedication to you. Our commitment to personal attention, confidentiality, and convenience is unsurpassed in today's banking environment.

The professionals at PriVest recognize that no two businesses or individuals are alike. Rather than providing a prepackaged portfolio of services, we take the time to understand your financial needs and tailor solutions specifically to meet your long-term goals. Banking with PriVest affords you the advantage of a consulting partnership with an experienced advisor. You can trust this individual to assess your financial concerns in a confidential manner and connect you with all the resources necessary to reach long-term success.

Because your time is valuable, we combine a client-focused approach with technologically advanced systems to maximize the convenience of our services. Our professionals are available to attend promptly to your banking needs, whenever and wherever you choose. In addition, we offer a variety of convenient options including online banking and door-to-door courier services. Regardless of your individual preferences, PriVest's dedication to quality will always be evident.

I invite you to experience the peace of mind and financial benefits of banking with PriVest. We provide all you need to develop, protect, grow, enjoy, and ultimately distribute your wealth precisely as you wish. If you would like to learn more about the benefits of banking with PriVest, please contact one of our professionals.
